The British Society Of Gastroenterology

Annual Meeting in London, 1954

President: S. W. Patterson, M.D., D.Sc, F.R.C.P., Senior Physician, Ruthin Castle, North Wales

List of Communications
Friday, November 5th Discussion on Disorders of the Biliary Tract

1) Radiology of the (rail-Bladder and Biliary Tracts
   Aldridge, N. H.: A Study of Intravenous Methods of Examining the Biliary Tree and the Effects of Various Drugs on the Radiological Appearances thus Demonstrated 2
   Cummack, D. H.: Radiological Investigation of the Biliary Tract 7
   Jefferson, K.: Cholecystography 11

2) Concerning the Origin of Gail-Stones
   Rains, Anthony J. H.: Concerning the Formation of Gall-Stones 18

3) Pains after Cholecystectomy
   Newman, Charles: Pains after Cholecystectomy 27

4) Gastrointestinal Infections in Animals and their Relationship to Similar Infections in Man
   Lovell, R.: Gastrointestinal Infections in Animals and their Relationship to Similar Infections in Man 28

5) Non-Specific Inflammatory Diseases of the Caecum and Adjacent Ascending Colon
   Cotton, L. T.: Non-Specific Inflammatory Diseases of the Caecum and Ascending Colon 34

Saturday, November 6th

6) Results of Gastroenterostomy for Duodenal Ulcer
   Clark, Douglas H.: Results of Gastroenterostomy for Duodenal Ulcer 41
   Evans, R. M.: Gastroenterostomy (Follow-Up) 45
   Hadley, G. D.: A Follow-Up of Gastroenterostomy Cases 48
   Swynnerton, B. F. A.: The Late Results of Gastro-.Jejunostomy for Duodenal Ulcer 51
   Taylor, Hermon: Gastroscopic Selection of Duodenal Ulcer Cases for Gastroenterostomy 54

7) Gastric Implant of the Colon in Dogs
   Sircus, W.: The Resistance to Digestion of the Stomach-Implanted Dog’s Colon 58

8) The Technique of Gastric Biopsy
   Coghill, N. F., and A. Wynn Williams: The Technique of Gastric Biopsy . . 60

Gastroenterologia, Vol. 83, No. 1 (1955)