Federation of European Nutrition Societies (FENS)

Purpose/Aims

The Federation of European Nutrition Societies is a federation consisting of 25 European nutrition societies, each representing one country. The main FENS event is the European Nutrition Conference, held every 4 years.

According to the FENS statutes, the Federation has been established to advance research and education in the science of nutrition. It will promote learning among nutritionists in general, and European nutritionists in particular, by organizing meetings and discussions, exchanging information and by other appropriate means.

Next Congress

11th European Nutrition Conference
Madrid, October 26–29, 2011
