20 Variety in Growth Hormone Determinations due to Use of Different Immunoassays and to the Interference of Growth Hormone-Binding Protein
Ebdrup, L.; Fisker, S. (Aarhus); Holmegaard Sørensen, H. (Gentofte); Ranke, M.B. (Tübingen); Ørskov, H. (Aarhus)

Consensus of Round Table Discussions

27 Consensus on How to Measure Growth Hormone in Serum
Ranke, M.B. (Tübingen); Ørskov, H. (Aarhus); Bristow, A.F. (Potters Bar); Seth, J. (Edinburgh); Baumann, G. (Chicago, Ill.)

Evidence-Based Medicine

30 Towards Better Decision Making in Growth Hormone Therapy
Pliskin, J.S. (Beer-Sheva)

36 What Randomized Trials and Systematic Reviews Can Offer Decision Makers
Altman, D.G. (Oxford)

44 What Observational Studies Can Offer Decision Makers
Black, N. (London)

50 Clinical Research Databases and Clinical Decision Making in Chronic Diseases
Kahn, M.G. (Broomfield, Colo.)
58 What Clinicians Can Offer: Assessing and Communicating Probabilities for Individual Patient Decision Making
Timmermans, D.R.M. (Amsterdam)

67 Patient Attitudes and Preferences Regarding Treatment: GH Therapy for Childhood Short Stature
Finkelstein, B.S.; Singh, J.; Silvers, J.B.; Marrero, U.; Neuhauser, D.; Cuttler, L. (Cleveland, Ohio)

73 What Decision Analysis Can Offer the Clinical Decision Maker
Why Outcome Databases Such as KIGS and KIMS Are Vital Sources for Decision Analysis
Dowie, J. (Milton Keynes)

83 KIGS and KIMS as Tools for Evidence-Based Medicine
Ranke, M.B. (Tübingen); Dowie, J. (Milton Keynes)
