XIII International Symposium on Contact Dermatitis

and

First Latin American Symposium on Cutaneous Allergy

Abstracts

Uruguay, 23-25 November, 2001
Symposium I:
Second International Symposium on Prevention of Occupational Skin Diseases in Hairdressers (Second ISPHOS)

Second ISPHOS – Introduction and Ideas
Schwanitz, H.J. ........................................... 123

Occupational Safety and Health Care for Hairdressers - A New Guideline in Germany
Mehrtens, G., Sander, S. ............................... 123

Relevance of Skin-Bioengineering for Pre-Employment Counselling in Hairdressers
John, S.M., Schwanitz, H.-J. .......................... 124

The Role of Skin Moisturizers in the Prevention of Irritant Contact Dermatitis in Hairdressers: An Update
Goh, C.L. .................................................... 124

Contact Allergy to p-Phenylenediamine in Sweden - A Reverse Intervention Study
Wahlberg, J.E and the Swedish Contact Dermatitis Research Group ........................................ 124

The Role of Accident Insurance in the Prevention of Contact Dermatitis in Hairdressers - Secondary Prevention
Brandenburg, S. ......................................... 124

Long-Term Efficacy of Secondary Prevention of Occupational Skin Diseases in Hairdressers
Wulfhorst, B. .............................................. 125

Comparison of Two Different Wet Work Professions: Hairdressers versus Geriatric Nurses
Schürer, N.Y. ............................................. 125

Tertiary Prevention of Occupational Skin Diseases
Skudlik, C., Batzdorfer, L., Schlesinger, T., Schwanitz, H.J. ................................. 125

Need for Methods to Assess Dermal Exposure in Hairdressers
Surakka, J., Lind, M.-L., Sollenberg, J., Meding, B. ................................................. 126

Research Needs and Future Issues
Maibach, H.I. ............................................. 126

Symposium II:
Contact, Occupational and Environmental Dermatitis in Latin America

Systemic Contact Dermatitis: Clinical Experience and Pathogenic Aspects
Honeyman, J. .............................................. 127

Dermatoses Caused by Plants in Latin America
Alchorne, A.O.A. .......................................... 127

Occupational and Environmental Mycoses in Latin America
Alchorne, M.M.A. ....................................... 127

Contact Dermatitis to Topical Corticosteroids
Mullins, E. ................................................ 128

Brazilian Patch Test Series: Evaluation of 3,000 Patients Tested
Pires, M.C. and the Brazilian Contact Dermatitis Group ........................................... 128

Multicentric Study for a Cosmetic Complementary Series Standardization
Lazzarini, R. and the Brazilian Contact Dermatitis Study Group ................................ 128

Patch Testing Reactions to a Standard Series in Uruguay
Ale, S.I. ................................................. 128

Interference of the Position of the Substances Present in an Epicutaneous Patch Test Series with the Occurrence of False-Positive Results
Duarte, I., Lazzarini, R., Buense, R. ............................. 128

Irritant Contact Dermatitis to Tin Fumes
Ali, S.A. .................................................... 129

Allergic Contact Urticaria to Latex
Cannavo, A.B., Komar, D., Rotemberg, A., Lopez, V. ................................. 129

Contact Dermatitis and Contact Urticaria to Natural Rubber Latex
Helbling, I., Larre Borges, A., Ale, S.I. ................................. 129

Occupational Contact Urticaria to Latex
Conde-Salazar Gomez, L. ................................ 129

Symposium III:
First International Symposium on Diagnosis, Treatment, and Prevention of Dermatological Conditions in Health Care Workers

First International Symposium on Diagnosis, Treatment, and Prevention of Dermatological Conditions in Health Care Workers: Introduction and Objectives
Taylor, J. .............................................. 130

Statistics on the Frequency of Dermatological Problems among Health Care Workers: USA, Europe and Asia
Taylor, J.S., Lushniak, B. ................................ 130
Irritant Contact Dermatitis among Health Care Workers: Classification and Overview
Taylor, J.S. .......................... 130

Clinical Patterns of Contact Dermatitis in Health Care Workers
Pratt, M. ................................ 131

Occupational Allergic Contact Dermatitis from Drugs in Healthcare Workers
Goossens, A., Gielen, K. ............. 131

The Occurrence of Hand Eczema among Employees in Surgical Units at Odense University Hospital, Denmark
Andersen, K.E. ....................... 131

Rubber Glove Dermatitis: Old vs. New Allergens
Brandao, F.M. ...................... 132

Skin Infections and Infestations in Health Care Workers
Engasser, P.G. ...................... 132

Latex Allergy
Turjannaa, K. ........................ 132

Occupational Skin Problems in Dentistry
Meding, B. ............................. 132

Treatment of Contact Dermatitis: Newer Topical and Systemic Agents
Rietschel, R.L. ....................... 133

Prevention of Occupational Skin Disease: An Overview
Maibach, H.I. ....................... 133

Research Needs and Future Issues
Maibach, H.I. ........................ 133

Symposium IV: Cosmetics and the Skin

Cosmetics and the Skin: Introduction and Overview
Engasser, P., Maibach, H.I. .......... 134

Cosmetics in Dermatology: The Bad and the Beautiful
Engasser, P., Maibach, H.I. .......... 134

Fragrance Dermatitis
Larsen, W. ............................. 134

Fragrance Sensitivity: Diagnostic Aspects
Goossens, A. ......................... 135

Concomitant Sensitivity between Chemically Related Fragrances
Buckley, D.A., Rycroft, R.J.G., White, I.R., Basketter, D.A., McFadden, J.P. .... 135

IFRA on the Move
Boyden, J. ............................. 135

Cosmetics and Exogenous Dermatoses
Engasser, P. ........................... 135

Some New Allergens in Cosmetics
Goossens, A. ......................... 136

An Investigation of Variables in Facial Sensory Perception
Marriott, M.C., Whittle, E., Rowson, M., Basketter, D.A. ..................... 136

Bioengineering Methods in the Objective Evaluation of Cosmetic Effects
Berardesca, E. ....................... 136

Application of in vitro Test Methods Using Monolayer and Three-Dimensional Culture Systems to Evaluate the Irritancy of Cosmetics Constituents
Eun, H.C., Suh, D.H., Park, K.C. ...... 137

Skin Rejuvenation via Peeling: The (Bio)Chemistry behind It
Schürer, N.Y. ......................... 137

Symposium V: Evidence-Based Contact Dermatitis

Dose-Response Relationships in the Elicitation of Contact Allergy
Basketter, D.A. ..................... 138

The Relationship between Both Dose and Time for Elicitation of Skin Allergy

Nickel and Cobalt Allergy - Cross-Reactivity and Relevance
Wahlberg, J.E., Lidén, C. ........... 139

Associated Patch Test Reactions to Standard Allergens
Brausch, J., Geier, J., Schnuch, A. ........................................ 139

Retest Model: Background and Practical Applications
Bruynzeel, D.P., Jonker, M., Rustemeyer, T., Scheper, R.J. ............ 139

The Value and Specificity of Drug Skin Testing in Investigating 164 Cases of Cutaneous Adverse Drug Reactions (CADR)
Barbaud, A., Reichert-Penetrat, S., Trechot, P., Weber-Muller, F., Schmutz, J.L. .... 139

Plenary Session I: Mechanisms of Contact Dermatitis

Mechanisms of Irritant Contact Dermatitis
Rietschel, R.L. ....................... 140

Systemic Contact Dermatitis
Veien, N.K. .......................... 140

Characterisation of CD11C/CD1A Dendritic Cells for the Identification of Contact Sensitisers
Gilmour, N., Wright, Z., Basketter, D.A. .................................. 140

Contact Allergenic Potency: Correlation of Human and Local Lymph Node Assay Data

Quantitative Aspects of Contact Dermatitis
Andersen, K.E. ....................... 141

Allergic Contact Dermatitis to Budesonide Reactivated by Inhalation of the Allergen
Isaksson, M., Bruze, M. ............. 141
Contents

Plenary Session II:
The Photosensitive Patient

Is the Patient with the Rash on Sun-Exposed Sites Really Photosensitive?
Freeman, S., Lee, P. .......................... 141

Skin Testing in Systemic Drug Photosensitivity
Gonçalo, M. ................................. 142

Plenary Session III:
Latest Lessons from the Clinic

The Contact Dermatitis Syndrome
Lachapelle, J.M. .............................. 142

Some Pitfalls to Avoid in the Diagnosis of Allergic Contact Dermatitis
Goossens, A. ................................. 142

Persistent Dermatitis, Negative Patch Tests, Irritants Excluded, but the Patient Wants to Know the Cause
Freeman, S., Bannister, M. ............... 142

Eczematous Cheilitis - An Update
Goh, C.L. ...................................... 143

Textile Dermatitis - The Ottawa Experience
Pratt, M. ...................................... 143

Hand Eczema in Swedish Adults - Changes in Prevalence between 1983 and 1996
Meding, B., Järnholm, B. ..................... 143

Plenary Session IV:
Occupational Dermatoses: The Future

Prevention of Occupational Contact Dermatitis - Why and How It Works
Schwanitz, H.J. ............................... 144

Occupational Dermatoses: A Changing Scene-Eradication?
Maibach, H.I. ................................. 144

Plenary Session V:
Atopic Dermatitis and Child Allergy: An Update

Food Allergy and Atopic Eczema
Turjanmaa, K. ............................... 144

Allergic Contact Dermatitis to Topical Treatments in Patients with Atopic Eczema
Beck, M.H. ................................... 145

Contact Allergy in Children
Vigan, M. ...................................... 145

Atopic Dermatitis Management Based on Clinical and Pathogenic Features of the Eruption
Honeyman, J. ................................ 145

Recombinant Allergens for Diagnosis and Therapy of Type I Allergy
Mahler, V. ...................................... 145

Plenary Session VI:
Therapeutics: The New and the Future

New Immunomodulatory Drugs in Dermato-Allergology: Systemic and Topical
Lachapelle, J.M. .............................. 146

Workshop I:
Controversies in Skin Bioengineering

Bioengineering and Sensitive Skin
Berardesca, E. ............................... 147

Testing for Irritation with a Multiparametric Approach: Comparison of Eight Parameters and Five Different Irritation Models
Fluhr, J.W., Kuss, O., Diepgen, T., Lazzerini, S., Pelosi, A., Berardesca, E. ............................... 147

Workshop II:
Skin Reactions to Drugs: Algorithm for Diagnosis and Management

Drug Skin Eruptions: A Clinical and Pathogenetic Classification
Pigatto, P. .................................... 148

Skin Testing in Delayed Drug Eruptions
Barbaud, A. ................................... 148

Epicutaneous Tests in Fixed Drug Eruptions
Bruynzeel, D.P. ............................... 148

Drug Eruptions for Which Skin Tests Are Not Helpful
Gonçalo, M. ................................... 148

Focus Session I:
Irritant Dermatitis: A New Approach

Interactions of Irritants - A New Approach to Irritant Contact Dermatitis

The Tandem Repeated Irritation Test (TRIT) - A New Method for Efficacy Testing of Protective Creams by Combination of Irritants

Updating Alkaline Challenge: The Smart Procedure and the Differential Irritation Test (DIT) for Objectifying Acquired Hyperirritability
Joh, S.H., Schwanitz, H.J. ............... 150

Skin Physiological Findings during Therapy with 8-Methoxypsoralen Bathing and UVA Irradiation (PUVA Bath Therapy)
Löffler, H., Aramaki, J., Friebe, K., Happle, R., Effendy, I. .................. 151

Instrumental Evaluation of Patch Test Results
Seidenari, S. .................................. 147
Focus Session II:
Food Allergy and Intolerance

Atopy Patch Tests in Diagnosis of Food Allergy
Turjanmaa, K. .................................. 151

Diet Treatment of Allergic Contact Dermatitis
Veien, N.K. ........................................ 151

Focus Session III:
Dental Problems

Systemic Contact Dermatitis Caused by Dental Materials
Veien, N.K. ........................................ 152

Oral Metal Contact Allergy: A Cause of Oral Squamous Cell Carcinoma? A Pilot Study

Dentistry - Risk Work for Occupational Skin Disease
Meding, B. ......................................... 152

Focus Session IV:
Occupational Dermatoses

Occupational Dermatoses in a Metalworking Industry
Gruvberger, B., Isaksson, M., Frick, M., Pontén, A., Bruze, M. .................. 152

Epidemiology of Occupational Skin Disease in Singapore, 1989–1998
Goon, A.T.-J., Goh, C.-L. .................................. 153

Goon, A.T.-J., Goh, C.-L. .................................. 153
