22nd European Workshop on Gastroenterology and Endotherapy

Brussels, Belgium, June 21–23, 2004

This course is designed for endoscopists, gastroenterologists, physicians in training as well as for GI nurses. It will include live video demonstrations permitting interchanges between faculty and registrants during procedures, using interactive personal computer assistance, lectures and quizzes. The procedures will be performed by expert endoscopists in collaboration with radiologists, pathologists and surgeons of the Brussels Faculty.

The aim of these demonstrations is not only to show the new devices and tricks for succeeding in each type of therapeutic procedures, but above all to explain clearly how to avoid the complications related to therapeutic endoscopy and to offer attractive and interactive discussion on practical case management.
