Fetal and neonatal research: from basic science to clinical practice

Neonatology
Fetal and Neonatal Research

Editors-in-Chief
H.L. Halliday, Belfast
C.P. Speer, Würzburg

‘Neonatology is one of the oldest and most reputable international medical journals dedicated exclusively to neonatal-perinatal medicine. Over the years it has provided scientists and clinicians with access to some of the most important advances in basic and clinical science related to newborn care. Its reputation and impact have steadily increased, attracting work from outstanding researches around the world’
Professor Eduardo Bancalari, University of Miami, Miller School of Medicine

All manuscripts must be accompanied by a cover letter and the copyright transfer statement with all authors’ signatures (handwritten) confirming that they agree with the publication of the paper. Names, postal and e-mail addresses of four international experts in the appropriate area of research should accompany each manuscript. Selected scientist(s) will be invited to act as referee(s). Referees suggested should not be from the same institution as the author and should have expert knowledge of the subject.

Conditions

All manuscripts are subject to editorial review. Manuscripts are received with the explicit understanding that they are not under simultaneous consideration by any other publication. Submission of an article for publication implies the transfer of the copyright from the author to the publisher upon acceptance. Accepted papers become the permanent property of Neonatology and may not be reproduced by any means, in whole or in part, without the written consent of the publisher. It is the author’s responsibility to obtain permission to reproduce illustrations, tables, etc. from other publications.

Conflict of Interest: All forms of support, including that from drug companies, and any potential source of conflict of interest should be acknowledged in the cover letter to the editor when applicable. The statement will be printed at the end of the article.

Ethics: Published research must comply with the guidelines for human studies and animal welfare regulations. Authors should state that subjects have given their informed consent and experiments conform to institutional standards.
