A long history of medical publishing at your fingertips

The eJournal Archive Collection comprises all digitized Karger journal issues from 1997 back to each title’s first year of publication. An additional 12 prestigious Karger journals, which cover scientific ground still relevant today and make it possible to link significant discoveries from the past to today’s research, join the eJournal Archive Collection in 2017.

The revised and expanded collection consists of 76 titles with a total of 2,423 publication years. The improved visual quality and advanced functionality allows for simple, efficient and productive searches across the entire collection on both the Karger webpage and Google Scholar.
