Professor John William Black † Professor John W. Black (Veedersburg, Ill., 1906; Columbus, Ohio, 1987), a longtime member of IALP and also Editor of Folia Phoniatrica for many years, has left us on 12.12.87 at the University Hospital of Ohio State University. All of us who have been his students or those who just knew him or have worked with him are and will be sorrowful over this very sensible loss.
For a very few men it is possible to say that they have been appreciated and honored by so many generations of professionals and in so many different places, not only in the USA, where he was Regent Professor of Communication Sciences at Ohio State University, but also in Europe, Japan and South America. Among the various offices he held, we was President of the Speech Association of America, Consultant for the USA Navy, for Veterans Hospitals and many scientific journals and publishing societies.

Professor Black has been a pioneer who has impelled the speech sciences and the profession of speech therapy to the highest level of quality, dignity and energy. For more than five decades, he has ceaselessly conducted researches, not only in experimental phonetics which was his main topic, but also in other areas of language and hearing pathology.
Many colleagues will remember him for his participation in many national or international meetings, where he knew everybody and was known by everybody. But on top of the excellent work, he will also be remembered for his vast knowledge and his wisdom together with his marvellous sense of humour, open laughing, and friendship.

From the President of IALP

The International Association of Logopedics and Phoniatrics is interested in hearing from its affiliated societies regarding their activities and conferences. It is our intent to publish news that you might send us which is of interest to logopeds, speech-language pa-thologists, audiologists, and phoniatrists in other countries. The activities of our several Committees will also be shared through the IALP News, and we would appreciate your suggestions or reactions to that information as well.

We look forward to hearing from you. Please address your comments or queries to myself as President of IALP (5165 Skyline Drive, Syracuse, NY 13215, USA), to Sister Marie de Montfort (Director, School of Remedial Linguistics, University of Dublin, Dublin 2, Ireland), General Secretary, or to Andre Muller, MD, President-Elect (Avenue de la Gare 6, CH-1003 Lausanne, Switzerland).

Denmark: The World’s Oldest Association of Logopedics

Five years ago, on 5 March, the Danish Speech and Hearing Association (Audiologopedisk Forening) celebrated its 60th anniversary, partly on the actual date of its foundation with a reception and a celebration lecture, partly with a special edition of the annual national congress in April and a festival banquet. Still we have the honor and obligation of being the world’s oldest association of logopedics, founded by Viggo Forchhammer in 1923, 1 year before IALP saw the light of dawn. During nearly 35 years the association was in charge of the examination and certification of speech therapists and pathologists in Denmark. From 1959 the government took over the responsibility for the education and training of speech and hearing therapists. So from then up till now the primary assignment of our association has been to establish a still more elaborate postgraduate course program, and to watch the development (unfortunately seldom the progress...) of the official education and its syllabus.

The First Nordic Congress of Logopedics and Phoniatrics

Thanks to the easy understanding between members of the Scandinavian language family we have a close collaboration among professionals in logopedics and phoniatrics in Scandinavia. As a reflection of this, we arrange the First Nordic Congress of Logopedics and Phoniatrics in Copenhagen in November this year. It would be a great pleasure to welcome participants from other European and perhaps overseas countries at this special event. Of course, the official languages will be the Scandinavian ones, and we will not be able to offer translation into English. But we all do understand English! So, be welcome in Copenhagen, November 18-20, 1988. For further information write to:
